There are three parts to the graphics pack: the animation, the title screen and the backgrounds. While a lot of fixes have already been applied to the vanilla version of the game, and they look just as good as it can be expected they will be in the case of these fixes (you can check the version number of the skins here: is also a smaller but still needed bugfix pack: The pre-transformed sprites cannot be used to extend the number of existing HUD sprites so they cannot be upgraded without a proper overhaul of the game (since the majority of the game content is made of these pre-transformed sprites anyway). There is no workaround to get past this, and that is something that will need to be addressed by the author before it is finally fixed. In addition, although the current code would make a pre-transformed sprite also transform to the transformed state when selected, it does not do so, so the game is still unable to be played. Walking With A Gun Walking With A Gun is a First Person Shooter(FPS) game for Android, which is developed by a small studio, Team Freebies. Walking With A Gun is a first person shooter action game where you must go on a adventure in search of the "UFO-19", an unknown artifact that will give you unlimited power, once you obtain it. Videos: AppBrain: Walking With A Gun Details: Real-time First Person Shooter Free to Play Requires Android 3.0 or higher. The goal is to create a First Person Shooter (FPS) game that has a great story, addictive gameplay and epic graphics. It is also imperative that the game is free to play with no micro transactions. How to use app (It will tell you during the first load): When you start the game, there are 3 options (Easy, Normal, Hard) for difficulty settings. Easy will be easier, and Normal will be easier. Hard will be harder, and Normal will be harder. Each difficulty setting is calculated as if it was a full new game (so the easier level will have less enemies). Easy: On Easy difficulty, enemies will not attack your enemies, and instead run away.
